ommencing tomorrow evening, Oct. 21st, and Saturday, Nov. 2d, the Hocoluin Lodge of Elks will present for the first time here, and under the diection of an experienced actor, Mr. M. J. Hooley, the modern Irish comldy, "Finnigan the Millionaire." The play is a good one, written by the well-known American author, Chas. l'ownsend.

"Finnigan the Millionaire" was a iccess from its first production in New York City. It has already been five years on the road and is now in its sixth season. Unlike the good old rish plays, the red coats, the prison, he evictions, are entirely absent in Finnigan the Millionaire." It is dern in every sense and is purely Irish-American. The Elks have given Mr. Hooley a capable company of layers, who enter into the spirit of their work with a vim and a dash They are in constant rehearsals every night and are going through their parts like old-timers. The play will be well staged and will be elegantly rostumed. In order to learn how Finnigan became a millionaire one chould see the play, which develops how Larry aquired his wealth and the subsequent results. It has all of the national Irish humor and wit, which is a gift in the Irish race, coupled with American Ideas of the present time. There is not a dull moment throughout the play, the netion being rapid, which creates time to time. It is full of humor natural, and not overdrawn. When the Elks decided to give their annual show at the Opera House, in their opinion a good, laughable show was the best to suit the public of Hono bulu: hence the selection of "Finnigan the Millionaire."

He: Brains are not needed to win uccess in these days. She: Is that an acknowledgment or a boast? - Chiago Record-Herald.
